This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. THERAPEUTICS

OF

COUGH AND CORYZA.

INTRODUCTION.

The primary objects of this book are to save time and to render the work of the physician more efficient.

It saves time by bringing together all the drugs applicable to a given case; it renders the work of the therapeutist more efficient by enabling him to select with greater precision the drug he will use.

The foundation of the Materia Medica herein set forth is Hering's Guiding Symptoms, the entire ten volumes of which have been carefully consulted from cover to cover, and the most prominent, striking and peculiar symptoms noted, as well as those that most strongly and clearly indicate the drug.

The following paragraphs in Hering's Guiding Symptoms have been carefully reviewed.

No. 1, Mind; No. 7, Nose; No. 12, Mouth; No. 13, Palate and Throat; No. 25, Larynx and Bronchi; No. 26, Respiration; No. 27, Cough; No. 28, Inner Chest and Lungs; No. 29, Heart, Pulse, and Circulation.

By consulting these sections one will see how much labor was necessary to condense and choose.

This may not always have been done with the best judgment; but if anyone will try his hand on one full drug, he will have a better basis for judging of the work as a whole.

No drugs that have respiratory symptoms have been omitted.

Of course the Materia Medica here presented is condensed. Otherwise, the book would be four or six times as large as it is.

But in this condensation the constant effort has been to include, as far as possible, the essential and peculiar symptoms of each drug. This is all that can be done in any condensation of Homeopathic Materia Medica.

No distinctive marks have been used, for the reason that unmarked symptoms in Hering will often be found quite efficacious, while the heavily marked are sometimes disappointing.

One must learn what he can do with his tools by using them, with only this proviso: he should be reasonably sure they are good tools.

The Repertory is the main thing, for by its use the physician finds in the shortest time and in the most thorough manner the drug he desires.

To avoid too many repetitions of the same symptoms, which might burden the work unnecessarily, cross references have been given in a number of instances.

The work of planning and making a Repertory is a most difficult undertaking.

In the first place there are several categories involved in the materials that must enter into such a work.

None of these divisions embraces all the material. Hence to follow any one of them as the guiding principle is sure to end in confusion. There is therefore no solution that will embrace "all the signs, symptoms, and concomitants," except the universal plan of the Dictionary, the alphabetical plan, that embraces all things under a definite, arbitrary and clear rule of arrangement.

It is very illogical, but also very practical.

Carried to its logical limits, such an arrangement would require that every prominent descriptive word or phrase should be given a leading place in its own proper location.

Such a course would involve too many pages as the result. A medium course must be found, whereby the most obvious words and phrases are chosen from each symptom, or group of closely associated symptoms, to represent the whole, in such a way that it may have as much meaning and as wide associations as possible.

Here again the characteristic of value enters, and values are often more personal than actual. Hence no work can be perfect, or meet the ideas of all comers.

It is hoped that the arrangement will not be found confusing or inefficient.

REPERTORY

OF THE

RESPIRATORY SYSTEM.

CORYZA AND COUGH.

METHOD OF USING THIS REPERTORY

1. First run over the Index for the leading symptoms manifested by the patient.

2. Then consult the Repertory at the place indicated.

3. If not satisfactory, try another leading symptom of the patient in the same way, beginning with the Index.

4. In case further light upon the remedy is desired, turn to the condensed Materia Medica; finding your drug in the Index.

5. Should still wider knowledge be desired, consult the same remedy in Hering's Guiding Symptoms.

6. Finally, to learn as fully as may be, the nature and action of the drug, consult the Cyclopedia of Drug Pathogenesy.

7. In the final estimate, much help may be derived from the Lectures and Essays of such men as Dunham, Farrington, Hughes, and some others. The path of knowledge is not easy.

A WORD TO BEGINNERS

To those who are accustomed to the use of Homeopathic remedies no word of direction is necessary.

However, it may be well to give a word of advice to those who are not so well acquainted with the application of drugs according to similars.

1. We know that a person is sick

a. by the way they report their sensations, or feelings;

b. by their changed appearance;

c. by the physiological changes present;

d. by the physical changes present; all of these changes are styled Symptoms.

2. Drugs, poisonous, and those more or less deleterious, are capable of producing such changes as these in healthy persons.

3. Experience has taught that when a drug-sickness is closely similar to a so-called natural sickness, i.e., the usual departures from health met by the physician, that drug properly administered will be beneficial to the patient.

4. Experience has further taught us that this similar drug is likely to strongly affect the patient for ill, if given in large doses, or even, at times, in appreciable doses.

Example: Arsenic, in acute gastritis, though of undoubted value when given in much reduced doses, is deleterious in appreciable doses.

5. The size and frequency of the dose is strictly subject to empirical tests, and in this fact lies the skill of the physician.

A drug that increases the symptoms will usually benefit, if given in sufficiently reduced doses.

THE SYMPTOMS HERE GIVEN.

The symptoms here given have been derived in part from administering the drug to well persons, and noting all departures from health (proving drugs). In part they are the symptoms of the sick that have been benefited or cured by the administration of the drug, mostly in moderate or small doses (clinical symptoms).

In any case these symptoms are subject to further experiment and observation.

THE ADVANTAGES OF THIS METHOD OF GIVING DRUGS.

1. The symptoms here given represent clinical experience in one of the last two forms mentioned. We have thus much to start with; the rest we learn by our own experience in the use of the drug itself; but we do not start blindly, and give the drug as a chance experiment. We have some experience already by which to guide us, the experience of those who gave us the symptoms.

2. A drug once proved useful for a certain condition remains always useful for that condition, unless a more speedy, sure and safer remedy has been found to supersede it. Homeopathic Materia Medica does not go out of fashion.

A drug well proved and well understood, is always legal tender in the treatment of the sick.

REPERTORY.

ABDOMEN:

Cough seems to come from abdomen; it is worse from direct heat, and hot sunshine, Antimo. crud.

Cough seems to come from abdomen; it is paroxysmal, intermittent, and ends with nausea and gagging, and sweating all over the body; nervous paroxysms of dry cough, Drosera.

Severe dry cough, as if it would shake the abdomen out; must support abdomen while coughing; finally a little mucus is raised (Apis), with relief, Carbo animalis; Carbo vegetabilis.

See also, "Stomach and Abdomen."

Abdomen feels too full, clothing too tight; scanty, suffocating cough, worse at night, China.

See also, "Constriction."

ABUNDANT CORYZA: See "Acrid Coryza, Abundant," "Bland Coryza, Abundant."

ABUNDANT LACHRYMATION: See "Eyes, Abundant."

ABUNDANT COUGH (Sputa): See "Sputa, Abundant."

ACRID:

Acrid Feeling in Chest:

Feeling of smoke in larynx, with incessant, short, dry cough; burning, smarting, and biting in nostrils, with distressing stoppage of nose, Ars. alb.

As if the lungs were full of smoke, Baryta carb.

Vapor of sulphur feeling in chest, producing suffocation, Brom.

Vapor of sulphur feeling in throat causes continuous, hard, dry cough; very dry and painful, Carbo veg.

Vapor of sulphur feeling causes dry cough; chest very sensitive; cough worse, touching larynx; abdomen too full, China.

Vapor of sulphur feeling in air passages causes spasmodic, tickling, dry cough, Ipecac.

Vapor of sulphur feeling in chest provokes dry cough; with feeling of constriction and dryness in chest, Kali mur.

Fumes of sulphur feeling in trachea causes hard, dry cough, day and night; coughs during sleep; head and pit of stomach painful, Lycopod.

Acrid discharges from mucous surfaces; soreness and burning in chest; dry, or scanty watery cough by day, mixed with tough, scanty, offensive mucus; or, dry, tickling cough, evening and night, worse lying down, until midnight; sensitive to cold; coryza and cough; fluent and watery, or thick, yellow, offensive, Magnes. mur.

Sensation of sulphur fumes in chest, with severe asthmatic cough, which is dry or scanty, very severe, in paroxysms; frequent vomiting of all food taken; worse nights, and after sleep; better morning, and by day, Mephitis.

Feeling as if smoke had been inhaled in lungs; chronic, or sub-acute, difficult cough; nose dry and obstructed; chest clogged and oppressed; worse at night, and in morning; soreness worse from deep breathing, and from exertion, Natr. ars.

Irritation low down in chest; irresistible, dry, hacking cough; deep in chest, Osmi.

Vapor of sulphur feeling in trachea; dry cough; very difficult mucus from larynx; green and viscid, or none, Paris.

Vapor of sulphur feeling in chest and trachea; dry, spasmodic cough, Puls.

Acrid Coryza:

Acrid Coryza; Thick: Abundant:

Thick, yellow, acrid and corrosive discharge; nose stopped, Arum triph.

Acrid, purulent discharge; nostrils sore, especially the left (chronic catarrh), Uran. nit.

Acrid Coryza, Thick:

Constantly hawking up acrid mucus from throat; acrid coryza; nose sore; dry cough, with acrid mucus in throat, Aphis chenop.

Thick, yellow, acrid and corrosive discharge; nose stopped, Arum triph.

Fetid, corroding, bloody nasal discharge, with sub-acute coryza; frequent sneezing; nose feels swollen, Aur. mur. et natr.

Profuse, muco-purulent discharge, both by blowing nose and hawking from posterior nares; inside of nose sore and painful; sub-acute, Euphrasia.

Acrid, corrosive, fetid, yellow mucus, with fluent, acrid coryza; taste and smell lost, Magnes. mur.

Thick, acrid discharges; chronic coryza; nose stopped; shortness of breath after talking, drinking or coughing, Muriat. acid.

With chronic, thick, acrid, yellow or creamy discharge dropping down in throat at night; must sit up and clear throat. (Special: digestion acid) acrid coryza, Natr. phos.

Thick mucus in throat; fluent coryza by day, dry at night. Niccol.

Acrid Coryza, Thin, Abundant:

Profuse, acrid, watery coryza, with sneezing; nose acrid; eyes bland; worse in a warm room; better in open air; no appetite, Allium cep.

Profuse, watery discharge from nose and eyes; sneezing and feverish; nose excoriated; throat, as if scalded; worse at back of throat, Eupat. pur.

Profuse, thin, excoriating discharge, with lachrymation; scanty indoors; profuse out; smarting in posterior nares, Hydrast.

Abundant, thin, very fluent coryza; burning pains in the nostrils; nose red and sore; frequent sneezing, with hoarseness, Kali carb.

Profuse, watery, acrid coryza, corroding nostrils and lip; nose stopped at night; loss of taste and smell; alternately stopped and fluent by day, Magnes. mur.

Abundant, thin, excessive, fluent, acrid coryza; loss of smell and taste; nose feels stopped, but runs at the same time, Merc. corr.

Abundant, thin, fluent coryza; following a feeling of pepper in the nostrils, with violent sneezing, Senega.

Acrid Coryza, Thin, Burning:

Burning pains in posterior nares; fluent, acrid coryza; in throat, dark-red and swollen; in larynx, soreness and constriction in chest (both larynx and throat painful on swallowing); with constriction in rectum constipation and piles, Æsc. hip.

Burning and bitting of edges and septum of nose; acute, acrid, fluent coryza; chills run up and down back; limbs ache; feet cold to knees; sneezing; feverish; worse cold and wet weather, Aphis chenop.

Distressing burning in throat and chest; scanty, watery sputa; acrid coryza; feeling of smoke in larynx; constant tickling in lungs, provoking short, dry, incessant cough, Arsen. alb.

Hot, watery, excoriating, acrid coryza, coming suddenly several times a day; especially in afternoon; intermittent, Ars. met.

Itching and burning in nose; very irritating, offensive, fluid coryza, corroding nose and upper lip; sub-acute, or chronic, Aur. mur.

Burning throat; nose inflamed inside; acute, watery, acrid, fluent coryza, with violent dry cough; nose stopped; thin mucus trickles from posterior nares into throat, causing constant hawking; cough very dry; chilly, prostrated; must lie down; worse from a warm room, but cannot bear cold air; better in even temperature, Merc. viv.

Acrid Coryza, Thin, Chilliness:

Coldness between shoulders; fluent, acrid, coryza; dry or scanty, spasmodic cough, day and night; or, worse at 6 P. M.; or, dry A. M., scanty P. M. and evening, Ammo. mur.

Alternating icy cold and burning heat in nose, throat and esophagus; fluent coryza, with dry cough; worse evening, night, and from heat, Ananth. mur.

Chills up the back all day; feet cold to knees; acrid coryza; fluent all day; pulse quickened; throat sore; limbs as if beaten, Aphis chenopod.

Chilliness, with acute, fluent coryza, and dry cough; nose stopped; corrosive, fluent discharge; pressure at the root of the nose; throat burning and sore, Merc. viv.

Chilly all the time, but does not desire heat, nor fear open air; fluent, acrid coryza; fever; dry, hacking—or violent—constant cough; worse from hot drinks, eating, and from evening to midnight, Mezereum.

Acrid Coryza, Thin, Excoriating:

Nose excoriated by acrid, ichorous, often bloody discharge; acrid coryza; throat sore, with ichorous discharge; smell lost, Ailanthus.

Watery, acrid, fluent coryza, corroding lip; cold between scapulæ, Ammo. mur.

Acrid, nostrils sore; fluid, acrid coryza; suffocative constriction around throat; constantly obliged to swallow to relieve throat, Cact.

Acrid, excoriating, fluid coryza; front of nose discharging, back dry; worse in open air; better indoors and washing in cold water, Calc. sul.

Profuse, watery, acrid, clear, fluid coryza; throat constricted and tender; comes on every evening, Cedron.

Watery, acrid, viscid, fluid coryza; with dry, hacking cough, Cham.

Watery, thin, excoriating discharge; acute, acrid, fluent coryza; thin, watery mucus in posterior nares; lachrymation; rawness in throat and chest; first stage (acute), Hydrast.

Thin, watery, excoriating discharge; sub-acute; fluent coryza; water runs profusely from the nose (but the more usual discharge of the drug is bland), Iodum.

Acute, acrid, watery coryza; excoriating nose and lip; nose very sore and tender; mucous membrane sore and swollen, Kali bich.

Acrid, watery discharges; fluent, acrid coryza; throat red and sore; sneezing, with fluent eyes and nose, Kali iod.

Nose excoriated, red; herpes on lip; fluent, watery, acrid coryza; fullness of upper part of nose; throat raw, Lache.

Acrid feeling in larynx causes paroxysms of short, dry cough, in shocks of two coughs each, Lobelia inflat.

Fluent, excoriating discharge; acrid coryza; sneezing by day, dry at night; nose swollen and sore, Lycopod.

Throat inflamed, raw, dark-red, burning; acute, fluent, acrid coryza; constant desire to drink; worse at night, Merc. corr.

Nose and lip sore; throat raw and burning; acute, acrid coryza; dry cough, worse from eating and drinking (hot drinks); chilly, but does not desire heat, Mezereum.

Excoriating, with stinging in the nostrils; acute, thin, acrid coryza; nose stopped; frequent sneezing; hoarseness, with soreness in chest, Muriat. acid.

Watery (or, frothy), scanty, difficult mucus; acute, scanty coryza; fever blisters on nose and lips, Natr. mur.

Watery, acrid discharges; in drops; fluent in open air; dry in house, Nitr. acid.

Watery, acrid, fluent coryza; stinging in nostrils; dryness of mouth and throat, without thirst; sneezing and coughing aggravating the colic, Pallad.

Fluent coryza; fluent in open air, dry in house; with crampy pain at root of nose; heat and redness of face, Plat.

Watery, hot, and acrid discharge from nose; fluent, acrid coryza; intense sneezing, Rhus tox. (Bland, hot water, Acon.)

Acrid, fluent morning coryza, with dry cough; sometimes, with watery stools, Scil.

Acrid, watery, fluid coryza; making inner nose and edge of nostrils sore; better warm, and wrapped up, Sil. (Ars.)

Excoriating, acrid, fluent coryza; sneezing and lachrymation; the eyelids smart and itch, Sinap.

Clear, acrid, watery discharge from nose; offensive smell before nose; frequent sneezing; acute, Sul.

Acrid Coryza, Thin, Eyes and Nose:

Nose acrid, eyes bland; profuse, watery coryza; dry cough splits larynx, which must be held by hand; headache, especially in back; hot and cold by turns; worse breathing cold air, or coming into warm room, Allium cepa.

Acrid tears from eyes, nose bland, watery discharge from nose; profuse, fluent coryza in morning; nose swollen inside; loose cough; much expectoration; violent irritation to sneeze without having taken cold, Euphrasia.

Profuse, acrid, watery discharge from nose and eyes; sneezing; feverish; nose excoriated; throat as if scalded; worse at back of throat, Eupat. pur.

Acrid discharge; fluent coryza, acute, 2nd stage; nose swollen; posterior nares dry; hot headache; must close eyes, Lycopod.

Acrid Coryza, Thin, Smell and Taste Lost:

Smell lost; ichorous, bloody, thin, abundant, non-fetid discharge; acrid coryza; throat sore, and dark-red, Ailanthus.

Loss of smell; acute, acrid, watery, bluish discharge, excoriating lip; nose stopped, great soreness and tenderness of nostrils; loss of smell; frequent sneezing awakes him from sleep, and is followed by dry, tickling cough, Ammo. muriat.

Smell and taste lost alternately; acrid, corroding nose and lip; thin and watery (at first); or yellow and fetid (second stage), and still acrid; fluent and dry; sensitive to cold air, Magnes. mur.

Loss of smell; dry coryza; dryness of throat, and no thirst, Psor.

ALTERNATING CORYZA (Alternating stages, dry and fluent):

Alternately Dry and Fluent Acrid Coryza:

Acrid discharges; alternately watery and excoriating or dry and painful, Silica.

Alternately Dry at First, Fluent Afterward:

Dry coryza, followed by fluent (acute); dryness of posterior nares and throat, with sneezing; followed by severe coryza, with thin, watery mucus, Æscul. hip.

Fluent, clear discharge following stopped nostrils; throat sore; acute coryza; preparing to swallow more painful than the act, Ammo. brom.

Dry coryza at first; becomes loose later; like white of egg, or in lumps the size of a pea; difficult, Cocc. cac.

Dry coryza at first, fluent afterwards; smell lost, Ipecac.

First stage, none, nose very dry, second stage, watery and acrid, mucous membranes burn and swell; third stage, thick and very difficult; fetid smell from nose, Kali bich.

None in first (acute) stage; fluent in second stage, and sometimes acrid with lachrymation; nose swollen and sore; chronic, thick, yellow, profuse; the face sickly and pale, blue rings around eyes; yellowish complexion, Lycopod.

Alternately dry and fluent; especially fluent in evening; rawness in throat and burning in chest; weight and pressure at root of nose, Zinc.

Alternately Dry and Fluent Coryza (Burning and painful in chest):

Alternately dry and fluent coryza; burning and sore pain in chest; with intermittent fluent coryza, frequent flowing of water from nose, rough voice, and dry cough; mouth and throat very dry, Magnes. sulph.

Alternate days; nose stopped; worse from least draft of air or change of clothing; burning in right chest; loose, chronic cough, Natr. carb.

Alternately Dry and Fluent Coryza (Nose painful):

Alternating dry and fluent coryza; coryza, more dry than fluent, with pressive pain at root of nose; tickling and rawness in larynx; hollow, dry, infrequent cough; no sneezing; sticky mouth; worse in morning; acute, Allium sativum.

Alternating dry and fluent coryza; nose painful, as from acrid vapors; nostrils crusty, or cracked, Antimo. crud.

Alternately dry and fluent coryza, mostly dry; crampy pain at root of nose; worse in cold weather, Manganum.

Alternately Dry and Fluent Coryza (Smell and taste lost):

Alternately dry and fluent coryza; smell and taste lost; throat sore; head dull; better in open air, Phos.

Alternately dry and fluent coryza; violent; complete loss of smell and taste, Magnes. mur.

Alternately dry and fluent coryza; with loss of taste and smell; appetite increased; pressure in forehead; eyes sore, Sul. ac.

Alternately Dry and Fluent Coryza (Sneezing):

See also, "Sneezing."

At first dry, then fluent; then sneezing, with sharp pains in chest, Ascl. tub.

At first dry, then fluent, watery and sneezing; tenacious mucus in throat, Aspar.

Acute, dry coryza; nose stuffed; heat and constriction in throat; with dry, hacking cough, Guarea.

Acute, dry coryza; nose stopped; smell lost; afterwards, fluent coryza and dry cough, Ipecac.

Acute, fluent coryza; smell lost; nose feels stopped, but runs; excoriating nostrils; smarting; throat swollen, painful, dry; difficult, tough, white, greenish sputa; or, none, Merc. cor.

Dry coryza; first stage; sneezing and acute, dry coryza; diminished smell; soreness in chest, Mezer. (Hydrast.)

Loose Cough; Stages of:

Loose, easy cough, in spells; copious, frothy sputa; vomiting before cough, Antimo. tart.

First stage, dry cough; second stage, loose, salty sputa, day and evening; tickling, Graph.

No sputa, first stage; scanty and difficult, second stage; profuse, third stage; at first, phlegm; later on, purulent, Guaiac.

First stage, no sputa, cough dry; second stage, scanty, thick difficult, with tickling in larynx; third stage, chronic, thick, difficult, offensive, purulent, yellow or green, abundant, Lycopod.

STERNUM:

Sternum, Burning Under:

Burning under sternum; with fluent coryza, sneezing, and chilliness; frequent, dry, tickling cough, Ant. tart.

Burning and rawness behind sternum; with violent, dry cough; throat dark-red and inflamed, Sang.

Sore, burning pain under sternum; especially during deep breathing, and from motion, Seneg.

Sternum, Irritation, or Itching Under:

Irritation behind sternum through to back; with sharp pains and constriction; worse from motion, and inhaling, Angust.

Scraping under sternum; soreness, with suffocative feeling; wants to be fanned; requires effort to take deep breath, Cann. Ind.

Itching behind sternum; causing violent cough, Kali bich.

Irritation to cough behind sternum; great sensitiveness to cold, Rhus tox.

Sternum; Pain Under:

Pain behind sternum; worse from walking up-hill, and in open, Jugl.

Pain behind sternum; deep, hollow, dry cough; obstructed breathing, Kali iod.

Stitches in sternum and chest; bruised pain in chest; pains in various parts; worse from talking or laughing; dry cough, better lying down, Mangan.

Pain behind sternum; worse morning and evening; dry cough; sputum greenish or white, Osmi.

Stinging pain in sternum; soreness; dry cough, Oxal. ac.

Stitches under the sternum; with deep, dry, cough from irritation in throat, Petrol. (Osmi.)

Sternum; Presure under:

Dry cough, from pressure in trachea, behind sternum; intermits and returns again in few hours, Tellur.

Sternum; Soreness under:

Sternum feels crushed in; chronic cough of old people, Kreosot.

Sternum painful; worse from pressure; violent cough; worse from least motion, Mancin.

Soreness behind upper third of sternum; dry, violent, fatiguing cough, Rum. cr.

Sternum; Tickling under:

Short, tickling, dry cough; from continued tickling behind sternum; stitching pains from front to back; chest to between shoulders; or, to small of back, Kali bich.

Tickling or sinking under sternum; with dry, incessant cough at night, Medorrh.

Sternum; Weakness under:

Weak, sinking feeling under sternum; dry, hacking cough; darting pain in shoulder; worse at night, and falling asleep, Medorr.

STINGING, LARYNX AND THROAT:

See "Larynx and Throat."

Prickling tickling in larynx causes severe tickling cough; losing sleep, Calc. carb.

Prickling, burning, suffocative feeling in larynx; with dry cough, Calc. fluor.

Prickling, burning, or itching in larynx; causing hacking dry cough; night and afternoon, Calc. fluor.

Burning and pricking in throat and pharynx, Lycopod.

Stinging in throat, with constriction; with sharp pains on swallowing, Niccol.

Stinging and scratching, with hoarseness and sharp pains; hoarseness of actors and singers; incessant, dry cough; must sit up and cough it out, until a little very difficult mucus is raised, Nitr. ac.

Burning and stitching pains in throat; shooting into ears; worse from swallowing; throat feels dry, Petrol.

STOMACH:

Stomach Bloats:

Stomach bloats; must loosen clothing; chronic cough, Kreosote.

Stomach Breathing; Comes From Pit of Stomach:

Breathing seems to come from pit of stomach; shortness of breath after drinking; drinks rumble in stomach; stomach rumbles after cough; dry cough P. M. and evening; scanty, in morning; very difficult sputa must be swallowed, Muriat. ac.

Stomach Cough; Comes From Pit of Stomach:

Dry, hard cough seems to come from the stomach; with inclination to vomit, Bell.

Severe, spasmodic, dry cough; as if from stomach, Bry.

Cough and breathing worse from eating wnrm food, Lobel. infl.

Dry, constant, violent, or hacking, acute cough; worse, eating or warm drinks; evening to midnight; sore, burning, dry throat, tickling like pepper; scanty, viscid sputa by day only, Mez.

Worse, Warm Room; Coryza:

Acute coryza worse from heat, or a hot room, or from becoming warm in bed, Merc. viv.

Worse, Warm Room; Cough:

See "Better in Cold Air."

See also, "Better in Open Air."

Cough; worse in warm room; breathing and general malaise worse; better in cool air, Apis mel.

Cough and coryza worse, on coming into warm room, Cepa.

Loose cough; worse in warm room, and lying down; better in open air, Dulc.

Hoarse, dry cough; worse, in warm room; lying down; worse from cold drinks, and before midnight, Spong.

Worse, Warm Room; Dyspnea:

See "Worse, Warm Room."

Difficult breathing grows worse in warm room, or coming into warm room from open air; also, worse from least exertion, Amm. carb.

Worse, Washing in Cold Water:

Sore throat and fluent coryza worse; also worse from the slightest exposure, Fluor. ac.

WORSE, WEATHER:

Weather Changes:

Weather changes bring on catarrhal fever and dry cough; sub-acute or chronic; pains in elbows, knees, and in chest under left clavicle through to back, Myrt. com.

Worse, Weather, Damp; Cough:

Short, dry, hacking cough; worse in damp weather, Curare.

Cough worse in wet weather, getting wet, in damp places; better in open air; worse in warm room, Dulc.

Chronic bronchitis; severe cough, day and night; worse in damp, cold weather, Kali carb.

Acute asthma; worse in damp weather; glairy, slimy sputa; especially from 4 to 5 A. M., Natr. sul.

Worse, Weather, Damp; Dyspnea:

Asthma; worse in wet weather and warm air; face blue, or bluish; congestion to chest; difficult breathing at night; not relieved anywhere, Aur. met.

Dyspnea from weakness of respiratory muscles; worse in damp weather; worse, moving, eating, or laughing; from paralysis of nerve centers; hoarseness and faintness of voice; worse, breathing cold air, Curare.

Asthma worse in foggy weather, Hyper. perf.

Acute or chronic asthma; worse in damp weather; great dyspnea, with desire to take deep breath, Natr. sul.

Asthma worse from damp weather; fog; warm room, Sepia.

Asthma, in damp, warm weather only; generally at night, passing off at daybreak, Syphil.

Worse, Weather; Warm Weather; Coryza:

Chronic catarrh worse, as warm weather approaches, Kreosot.

Worse, Weather, Warm; Wet Weather; Cough:

Loose cough; worse in warm wet weather; in warm room; in morning; during expiration, Iodium.

Difficult cough; worse in warm wet weather; during expiration, Iodum.

Worse, Weather Wet; Cold Weather; Coryza:

See also, "Cold Damp Weather."

Acrid, fluent coryza; dry cough; worse in cold wet weather; sore throat and larynx; chilly and aching, Aphis chenop.

Dry coryza; worse in wet cold weather; in evening; crampy pain at root of nose, Mangan.

Coryza worse in cold, wet weather; from heat, or from least draft; better in even temperature, Merc. viv.

Worse, Weather Wet; Cold; Cough:

Whooping cough and catarrhal troubles; worse in cold wet weather; from fall to spring, Cocc. cact.

Cough from cold wet weather; also, cold applications; better from warm weather and warm applications, Nux m.

Bronchitis from catching cold or getting wet, Op.

Dry or scanty cough; from getting wet or chilled; from over-exertion; rheumatic pains better from motion; cough worse from least exposure to cold, Rhus tox.

Chronic, difficult, loose cough; worse in cold, stormy weather; at night, and in morning, after rising, Sepia.

Cough worse from cold damp weather, and from cold air; also from strong spices and vinegar, Sul.

Worse, Wine; Asthma:

Asthma worse from wine, and from smoking; worse at night; long expiration; short inspiration, Op.

Very painful congestions of respiratory tract.
Acute local hyperemia.
Potencies: 2x to 30x, and higher.

ACONITUM FEROX

THROAT AND MOUTH—

Constriction, burning, formication, tingling, and numbness in mouth and throat.

COUGH.

Inclination to dry cough with great dyspnea.

RESPIRATION—

Fears he will suffocate.
Desires external heat.
Must sit half way up and rest head on hands to get his breath.

MIND—

Great anxiety; great fear of suffocation.

SENSATIONS—

Tingling, constriction, burning, formication, and numbness.
Suffocation, with great fear of death.

ACTAEA SPICATA

NOSE AND THROAT—

Nose-bleed, during oppression of the chest.
Bruised pains in the nose; mucus from nose tinged with blood.
Sharp pains in throat, especially when breathing cold air.
Soreness of throat increased by speaking.

RESPIRATION—

Difficult breathing.
Feels too weak to breathe.
Both inspiring and expiring difficult,—but expiring worse.
Deep breathing painful; causes pain at pit of stomach, and in hip, like a painful shock. (Causticum.)

SENSATIONS—

Cold air painful to nostrils.
Sharp pains; bruised pains,—nose and throat.
Too weak to breathe; both inspiring and expiring.
NOTE.—For Actaea racemosa see Cimicifuga.

AESCULUS HIPPOCASTANUM

CORYZA.

DRY CORYZA—

Dryness of posterior nares and throat,—with sneezing (first stage).

FLUENT CORYZA—

Thin watery discharge.
Burning and rawness in nose and throat.
Dull frontal headache.
Sensitive to inhaled air: (second stage.)

DISCHARGES—

None, mucous membranes dry; sneezing.
Fluent, watery with hawking of ropy, sweetish mucus.

SENSATIONS—

Cold air is painful.
Burning, stinging, prickling, rawness; formication, in nose and throat (Ac.).

THROAT—

Dark-red, congested; tonsils swollen.
Burning with frequent desire to swallow.
Fiery-red; constricted on swallowing.
Feels swollen; hawks up sweetish ropy mucus.
Chronic pharyngitis with non-bleeding hemorrhoids.

PHARYNX—

Feels stiff, dry, raw, worse swallowing.

COUGH.

Dull frontal headache.
Dry hacking cough; hepatic cough.
From irritation of epiglottis.
From constriction and irritation of fauces.
Chronic hacking cough; non-bleeding piles.

CHEST—

Tightness and constriction of chest, with Burning and constriction of lungs.
Soreness over lungs, on deep breathing.
In lower part of chest, burning and constriction.
Lungs feel enlarged and congested.

SENSATIONS—

As if sore lung (right) moved Up and down with breathing.
Dull frontal headache.

CONCOMITANT—

Non-bleeding piles.
Rectum feels as if filled with dry sticks.
Stools dry, hard, difficult.

AGARICUS MUSCARIUS

POISON MUSHROOM

CORYZA.

Frequent sneezing morning in bed, dry coryza.

FLUENT CORYZA—

Frequent dropping of clear water from nose.
Thin, watery.
Bad odor from nose: water runs from eyes.
Copious, offensive, chronic,—in old people.
Copious thick tenacious mucus,—sub-acute coryza.
Smell of vinegar is intolerable.
Nosebleed of old people, blood-vessels of nose relaxed; passive hemorrhage.

THROAT—

Dryness and constriction of pharynx as from an astringent.

COUGH.

Sudden, convulsive dry cough.
Dry cough shaking whole body, caused from tickling in trachea.
Spasmodic dry cough, followed by equally spasmodic sneezing.
Constant irritation to cough which can be partially controlled, but when it comes it doubles him up with its violence, and is painful.

SPUTA—

None,—cough dry, spasmodic.
Hacks up small round hard balls of mucus without effort. (Chronic.)

WORSE—

Worse deep breathing.
Oppression in region of diaphragm.
Involuntary deep sighing; heart rapid.

SENSATIONS—

Bad odor before the nose.
Constriction of throat; dry, as from astringent.
Constriction of chest; oppression of chest.
Involuntary sighing.

AGNUS CASTUS

COUGH.

In paroxysms.
Very difficult, with nosebleed and palpitation of the heart.

SPUTA—

Very difficult.
Hangs like a rag in throat and fauces.

SENSATIONS—

Of dryness in chest.
Tough, rag-like sputa in throat.

AILANTHUS GLANDULOSA

CORYZA.

ACUTE—

Sneezing, headache, and dyspnea.
Fluent, copious, thin, acrid, excoriating.
Without fetor (acute).
With loss of taste and smell.
Thin bloody, ichorous, copious (scarletina).

CHRONIC—

Dry catarrh, nose obstructed.

THROAT—

Livid, dark-purple, much swollen.
Studded with ulcers, oozing a fetid discharge.
Dry, rough and scrapy.
Tender on swallowing.
Worse from breathing and in the morning.

COUGH.

ACUTE—

Dry, hacking, incessant cough, with the fluent coryza and congested face.
Chest feels constricted.
Constant dry cough, pain and soreness in chest (measles).
Constant dry cough, with pain and burning, and oppressed breathing.

Violent fits of coughing, until sputum is raised, coming on before retiring and on rising in the morning.
Congested face, violent dry cough.
Lungs feel sore and tender.

SPUTA—

None; or dry and scanty at first.
Watery mucus in second stage, coming on after long fits of coughing.
Muco-purulent in chronic cases, and free only morning on rising, and night on retiring.

SENSATIONS AND PAINS—

Loss of taste and smell.
Soreness of nose and throat, which is dark purple and swollen; swallowing painful.
Pressure and fullness of chest.
Chest feels constricted as if bound with a strap.
Lungs feel as if air-cells stuck together.
Lungs feel sore and tender.
Feel tired, as if too hard work to breathe (Actaea spicata).
Feel constricted in the center of the lung.
Especially the left lung feels constricted in the center, near base of heart.

ALLIUM CEPA

ONION

CORYZA.

A feeling of tightness at the root of the nose.
Profuse acrid coryza, watery discharge; with sneezing and lachrymation.
Nose acrid; eyes bland (Euphrasia the reverse).
Constant sneezing worse in a warm room.
Better in the open air; eyes and nose run a stream.
Headache, thirst, loss of appetite, with the fluent coryza.
Headache, especially in the occiput.
Throat feels as if it would split with the spasmodic cough.

COUGH.

Dry, very spasmodic as if it would tear the larynx, or split the throat.
Must support larynx with hand while coughing.
Coryza and cough from damp cold (N. E.) winds.

WORSE—

Coming into a warm room, but also from Breathing cold air.
In evening.

BETTER—

In open air, not cold.

SENSATIONS—

Loss of breath beginning to cough.
Abdomen feels as if it would burst from cough.
Pain in vertex or occiput with cough.
Oppression in chest drives him into open air.

ANAGALLIS ARVENSIS

SCARLET-PIMPERNEL

CORYZA.

Thick, yellowy mucus from the nose.
Dryness and scraping in throat.

COUGH.

DRY COUGH—

From scraping in the throat.

SENSATION—

As if a brush were brought in contact with epiglottis, provoking cough (Æsculus hip.).

WORSE—

After meals.

ANANTHERUM MURICATUM

THE ROOT OF AN EAST INDIAN GRASS (ANDROPOGON MURICATUS Retz).

CORYZA.

FLUENT CORYZA—

Sneezing and lachrymation.
Burning in nostrils.
At root of nose and in the head, stitches and pressive pains.
DISCHARGES—
Copious, greenish, bad-smelling discharge.
Fluent, with sneezing.

Dry, in morning; loose in afternoon.

SPUTA—

None in morning.

Copious yellow sputa in afternoon.

WORSE—

From inhaling, and from motion; sharp cutting and constriction.

Until 3 P. M., dry cough with rattling in chest; then copious loose sputa.

SENSATIONS AND PAINS—

Chest feels very light, as if breathing with more ease.

Pressure on chest, as after violent running.

Irritation behind sternum felt through to back.

Sharp cutting and constriction; worse from inhaling or motion.

SPECIAL—

Constriction of chest.

Cutting pains from front to back.

Belching with the cough.

Throat dry, without thirst; worse swallowing.

ANTIMONIUM ARSENICOSUM

COUGH—

DRY COUGH—

Extreme dyspnea; abundant pleural exudate (sub-acute).

SPUTA—Usually wanting.

SENSATIONS—

Extreme dyspnea.

Face blue.

Abundant serous exudate in pleural and pericardiac cavities.

SPECIAL USE—

Pleurisy, especially of left side.
Pericarditis.

STATE AND STAGES—

High febrile states.
Extreme stages, even to threatened asphyxia.

DOSE—

1x trit. to 3x trit.; or $\frac{1}{10}$ to ½ grain in ¼ glass of water, taken every hour, in teaspoon doses.

N. B. There is no proving of this drug, but its clinical use has been very satisfactory in the cases stated. (Allg. Hom. Zeit.—1885, Nos. 2, 5, 8.)

ANTIMONIUM CRUDUM

TEMPERAMENT—

Peevish and fretful; loathing of life; sad and sulky; or very impressionable.

CONDITION—

Depressed vitality of all the mucous surfaces.
Skin unhealthy; subject to erruptive diseases; pustular, or of epidermis.

CORYZA.

DRY, OR FLUENT—

Nose painful when breathing, as from inh ng too cold air or acrid vapors.
Breathing cold air is painful.

NOSE—

Cracked, crusty, scabby.

Voice lost; can scarcely utter a word.
Worse getting over-heated; laryngitis of singers.
Plug in larynx, feeling of.
Spasms, violent, of throat.

CHEST—

Constriction of chest, severe; worse after eating.
Burning and stitches with cough:

RESPIRATION—

Worse exhaling.
Suffocation after eating.
Sighing after eating.

SENSATIONS—

Cold air seems acrid and painful to nostrils.
Abdomen, as if the cough came from.

Plug, in the larynx, which becomes alternately thicker and thinner.
Soreness accompanies plug-feeling.
Burning in chest; stitches in chest.
Constriction of chest; worse after eating.

SPECIAL—

Tendency to pustular diseases; pustular eruptions.
Depressed digestion, with white, deeply coated tongue.
Depressed vitality.

ANTIMONIUM SUL. AURATUM

CORYZA.

Increased mucus from nose and throat.
Offensive smelling mucus from the throat.

SENSATIONS—

Burning and heat in fauces.
Plug-feeling in throat (See Ant. crud.).

COUGH.

Dry, hard cough; no sputa.
Passive congestion of upper lobe of left lung.

SPUTA—

Mixed with blood; of sweetish taste.

SPECIAL—

Upper lobe of left lung.
Passive congestion.
Dry, hard cough.

ANTIMONIUM TARTARICUM

CORYZA.

FLUENT CORYZA—

Sneezing and chilliness; watery discharges.
Loss of taste and smell; no thirst.
Hoarseness and weak voice.
Tickling, gagging cough; sometimes with retching and eructations, and vomiting of watery slime.
Nose-bleed preceding this.

ALTERNATELY DRY AND FLUENT—

Nose stopped, when dry.
Severe tension over the root of the nose, like a band.

DISCHARGES—

Fluent, watery, acute.

NOSE—

Severe tension at root of nose, like a band.
Nose-bleed, followed by fluent coryza.
Sneezing, chilliness; loss of smell and taste (acute coryza).
Rapid movement (fanlike) of nostrils, with difficult breathing.
Sooty, brownish, or black inside (Bronchitis, pneumonia).

COUGH.

DRY COUGH—

Day or night; it returns at short intervals.
Compels patient to sit up.
Caused by tickling in the larynx, which is more or less sore and painful.
Incessant dry cough, from Laryngeal irritation.
Constant irritation to cough,
With scanty sero-albuminous sputa of brownish color.
Tickling, scanty cough, with
Retching and violent eructations, or even vomiting of watery slime.
Attended by fluent coryza.
Hollow cough, which
Excites great pain. (Pneumonia.)
Violent cough, which
Excites vomiting.
After each meal, causing vomiting of all food.
Short, shrill cough.
Hissing hoarseness, cannot speak a loud word.
Child raises hand to painful larynx: or
Springs up in great distress and grasps throat, or clings to those about him. (Allium cepa; Sambucus nig.) (Catarrhal (not membranous) croup.)
Frequent dry cough.
From tickling in the larynx, which is tender and painful.
Great hoarseness even with slight cough.

Coughing and crying as from pain (in larynx or bronchi), with fear of coughing.
Hollow cough, much mucus in throat.
With suffocation, and sweat on forehead,
Vomiting of food; throat seems full of phlegm.
Worse at night.
Fatiguing cough, mostly at night:
Must sit up:
Shakes the whole body, and causes headache, mostly in forehead.
Distressing cough (scanty), with shortness of breath, and rattling in chest.
Present day and night.
Cough during whole proving (alternating),
At times, dry.
At other times, abundant sputa.
Always white and frothy.
Constant cough, with frequent vomiting of all food, or of thin, frothy, bloody sputs (edema of lungs).

LOOSE—

Easy, loose cough.
Copious, white, frothy sputa (following pneumonia).
Vomiting of all food before each coughing-spell (Whooping cough).
Easy, loose cough, with
Bloody, slimy sputa (following hemorrhage of lungs).
Coughs and yawns consecutively.
Cries when coughing.
Drowsy, or comatose.
Twitching of muscles of face.
Very loose, rattling cough.
Chest seems full of phlegm, but nothing comes up.
Loose rattling in larynx, bronchi, and chest
Sounds very loud, but nothing comes up from coughing, nor Even by vomiting: high fever.
Loose rattling in chest with every breath; but though chest seems to be filling up, there is
But slight inclination to cough.
Nothing raised at any time, or at least, only a slight amount:
Breathing labored.
Lips and nails blue.

Child drowsy or comatose; body covered with cold sweat.
Loose cough, abundant, purulent, thick sputa.
Copious sweating.
Shaking chills, or chilly at every move (ameliorates phthisis).
Loose cough, profuse mucus easily expelled: or
Profuse, yellowish sputa, with feeble expulsive powers.
Gasps for air at the beginning of every coughing spell
With feeling of suffocation (Whooping-cough).

ASTHMA—

Loose, difficult cough.
Asthmatic breathing.
Suffocative feeling in chest.
Better after raising mucus.
Must sit up to breathe or to cough.
Does not desire cold air.
Sudden attacks of asthma,
With vomiting of food, and great dyspnea.
Cough very difficult at first; later it becomes loose, and relieves the breathing.
Wants everything away from the face.
Suffocative cough.
At 3 A. M.; violent asthma.
Chest feels constricted; cannot lie down.
Violent, asthmatic breathing at night, which lasts more or less next day.
Gasping inhalation.
Better after raising phlegm.

CHEST—

Heaviness and weight in chest, with difficult breathing.
Stitching and shooting pains in chest.
Burning under sternum, with fluent coryza, and frequent, dry cough.
Full of phlegm. (See Cough.)
Feels contracted.
Great rattling of phlegm in chest, but
None is raised either by coughing or vomiting.

SPUTA—

None, dry cough; acute laryngitis: either of two stages follow.
(1.) Abundant, white, frothy (proving, etc.).

(2.) Very thick, adhesive, gluey and exceedingly difficult; if loosened is swallowed.
Very loose-sounding, rattling cough.
No sputa is raised; great dyspnea (Acute).
Profuse, yellowish, with feeble expulsive powers (Sub-acute).
Profuse, easily expelled: or
Profuse, purulent, easy, or difficult.
Blood-streaked, rust colored, thick, gluey, difficult.
Tough, foamy, mixed with blood; or bloody, slimy (following hemorrhage of lungs).
Copious, white, frothy (following pneumonia).
Loose, suffocating, abundant (with asthma).
Sero-albuminous, of brownish color (influenza).
Loud rattling of loose sputa in throat and chest, seems very abundant, but little or none is expelled.
This arises
From the tough, gluey character of sputa.
From feeble coughing, the patient seems unable to cough vigorously and energetically.

BETTER—

From sitting; worse from lying.
Must sit up with cough: must sit up to get breath.
Child must be carried upright to relieve breathing.
Better (respiration) after raising rattling mucus, which is difficult.
Cough grows loose after a time.

WORSE—

Lying down, much worse.
At night; but present by day.
Getting warm in bed; cough and asthmatic breathing.
After eating, vomiting of all food with cough.
Coughing, larynx painful.
Sour food brings on asthma.
Getting angry brings on cough and dyspnea.
Before beginning to cough, vomits all food (Whooping-cough).
During efforts to vomit severe pain in forehead; head hot and sweaty.

LARYNX AND THROAT—

Throat covered with eruption of pustules, or vesicles; or transparent or grayish false membrane.

Tickling, creeping in larynx causes frequent or incessant cough, sometimes gagging and even vomiting.
Throat full of phlegm, which is not raised.
Well-marked, metallic taste in mouth.
Thirst, very little (acute catarrh).

RESPIRATION—

Rapid and very labored;
With loud rattling of mucus in throat and chest.
Short, unequal, and trembling, with cessation of cough and loud rattling.
Not much pain, but great dyspnea.

CHILL, FEVER, SWEAT, PULSE—

Chilliness, sneezing, irritable.
Fluent coryza, dry tickling cough.
Heat, or more or less burning in chest, especially under sternum (bronchial cough).
Surface becomes cold and blue.
Cold sweat on face, or General cold sweat; great dyspnea.
Blood carbonized.
Sleepy, dull, comatose; collapse (Paralysis of lungs; catarrhal broncho-pneumonia).
Chilly with every motion: profuse chronic catarrh.
Shaking chills, purulent sputa; great depression of vital force. (Chronic cough).

SENSATIONS AND PAINS—

Not much pain: very trifling pain in proportion to other symptoms.
No pain, nor much active distress, though on condition bordering on collapse.

Slight burning, or heat in chest.
Soreness of throat, especially of larynx, which is occasionally very painful.
Great and persistent dyspnea, but
Does not care for cold air, nor fresh air: wants everything away from face.
Drowsy, sleepy, or comatose: yawns after coughing.

SPECIAL—

Irritable, cross, crying when disturbed; spiteful.
Blue, drowsy, stupid, not much pain; with the following conditions.
Very loud rattling of abundant mucus in throat, or chest, with feeble cough, and no expulsion of sputa.

ATTACKS—

Asthma at 3 A. M.
Asthma at night.
Cough night and day.
Cough at night.

DISEASES—

Acute coryza: fluent, or alternating fluent and dry.
Acute catarrhal inflammations of nose and throat; larynx; bronchi.
Much mucus, now to be expelled, resisting all efforts to dislodge; in first stage, fluent.
Acute catarrhal croup of larynx.
Whooping cough; vomits before coughing-spells.
Chronic catarrh of bronchi and throat; abundant difficult mucus; abundant, easy, purulent mucus.
Edema of lungs.
Threatened paralysis of lungs.
Acute or chronic bronchitis.
Catarrhal pneumonia.

APHIS CHENOPODII GLAUCI

CORYZA.

FLUENT CORYZA—

Violent sneezing, with soreness in larynx.
Burning and biting on the edges of the nostrils, particularly the septum.

Burning pimples on nostrils and lips.
Fluent all day, with chills up the back, feet cold to the knees, pulse quickened, sore throat, and limbs as if beaten.

Larynx very sensitive to touch: it causes suffocation.

Larynx and whole throat painful to touch.

Paralysis of vocal cords, especially the left.

RESPIRATION—

Obliged very often to take a deep breath: constriction of chest.

Awakens with a great sense of suffocation: must sit up and lean forward with head thrown backward.
Chest dry or "rattling like peas."

SPECIAL—

Very loquacious and talkative, but jumps from one thing to another without any connection.
Much worse on waking; much depressed and anxious on waking.

SENSATIONS—

Very impatient of all constriction, about throat, chest, or limbs.
A sense of constriction, though all parts are free.
Feeling of lump, like button in throat; feeling of suffocation in pit of throat.
Feeling as if a crumb had lodged in the throat, with some soreness on swallowing.
Throat feels swollen.

LACHNANTHES TINCTORIA

COUGH.

DRY COUGH—

Great dryness of the throat; worse on awakening in the night, attended by much short, dry coughing; it causes sleeplessness.
Feels itching spot in throat on swallowing; left side feels swollen; burning in right side of larynx.
Dry cough from larynx; sputa blood-streaked; severe pain in chest. (Typhoid pneumonia.)

SPUTA—

None, or scanty and blood-streaked.

WORSE—

In bed, and after sleeping.
At night, cough worse.

PULSE—

Rapid, small, thin, hard.

GENERAL—

Abdomen sensitive; bowels constipated.

SENSATIONS—

Small itching spot in throat, causing dry cough at night.

LACTIC ACID

CORYZA.

DIFFICULT CORYZA—

Severe coryza, sneezing, nose stopped; thick, yellow mucus from posterior nares, having a dead sweet taste.

Mucus in posterior nares must be hawked up to clear it out; thick, viscid, clear, or yellow; flat, sweet-tasting.

COUGH.

DIFFICULT COUGH—

Hoarse, dry cough, with great dryness of throat.

Spasmodic, dry, hoarse, hard, ringing cough.

SPUTA—

Of difficult, tough mucus.

Clear, or gray lumps, in abundant saliva; later on yellow, thick, salty:

WORSE—

From cold air.

In Spring and Fall.

LARYNX AND VOICE—

Lost in morning on rising; afterwards, hoarse and creaking.

Hoarse; sensitive to cold air; throat constricted.

Dryness and burning in larynx; especially the rim of the glottis.

Voice very hoarse; great dryness of throat.

Throat feels irritated; glottis dry.

SENSATIONS—

Sensitive to cold air.

Throat feels constricted.

Glottis feels dry and burning, especially the rim.

LACTUCA VIROSA

COUGH.

DRY COUGH—

Incessant, dry, spasmodic cough, as if the chest would burst.

Dry cough, in short paroxysms, shaking chest and occiput.

Dry, hacking, spasmodic cough, as if the chest would fly to pieces.

Caused by a peculiar tickling in throat (fauces or larynx) causing a sense of suffocation in throat, and a very straining, violent cough.

Dry, suffocative, with coldness in the stomach.

WORSE—

In the morning; after sleep.

Lying down.

From tight clothing on chest.

BETTER—

Sitting up.

PULSE—

Slow, small, short.

SENSATIONS—

Oppression of chest wakens him; must sit up at once; jumps out of bed to get his breath.

Great anxiety before cough.

Anasarca and hydrothorax.

Feeling of suffocation in throat, caused by tickling, severe, dry cough.

LAUROCERASUS

DRY COUGH—

Short, dry, distressing, nervous cough, from organic heart disease; begins as soon as she lies down (mitral stenosis).

Spasmodic contraction of throat and esophagus; drinks gurgle audibly in stomach.

Almost constant, dry, tickling cough; mouth and throat feel as if burnt.

Dry cough, with a whistling sound.

Suffocative, dry cough, with severe localized pleural pain; pulse soft and quick.

Loose cough; raises great amount of phlegm, spotted with distinct blood-clots.

SPUTA—

Generally none; cough very dry, whistling.

Abundant, jelly-like, dotted with blood-points, or clots.

WORSE—

Evening; at night; lying down.
From warmth; eating or drinking; from motion.

RESPIRATION—

Dyspnea, as if the lungs would not expand sufficiently, or as if they were pressed against the spine.

PULSE—

Slow, irregular, small, imperceptible; tendency to cyanosis (from heart failure).

SPECIAL—

Usually an extremely nervous, excitable condition is present in all cases.

LEDUM PALUSTRE

COUGH.

DRY COUGH—

Dry, hollow, racking, spasmodic cough, from suffocative tickling in the larynx; gets stiff all over before cough.
Loses breath before cough begins.
Spasmodic cough preceding an eruption (eczema).
Mouldy taste in mouth every time she coughs, causes much nausea, loss of appetite, and occasional vomiting.

CHRONIC COUGH—

Chronic cough: expectoration mostly after midnight, and in the morning; great deficiency of animal heat.

SPUTA—

None; or,
Difficult, and only last part of night and in morning.
Bright red foaming blood.
Suppurative sputa, greenish, bad tasting.

WORSE—

From motion, or walking.

RESPIRATION—

Spasmodic, double or sobbing.
Opisthotonous and arrested breathing before cough.
Constriction of chest.
Rapid and painful breathing.

LILIUM TIGRINUM

CORYZA.

SCANTY CORYZA—

Frequent sneezing, relieving a severe burning headache, and pain in the eyes.

Hawking of mucus, with constant nausea.

Dragging and weight in chest, as if all the internal organs hung suspended from the chest.

Feeling as if internal organs would pass out through the vagina.

RESPIRATION—

Smothered feeling, with sensation of a constant load or weight on chest; as of too much blood in chest. Hale.

LITHIUM CARBONICUM

CORYZA.

DIFFICULT CORYZA—

Nose obstructed at the back; blows nose much in morning and forenoon, but much mucus remains in the posterior nares.

COUGH.

DRY COUGH—

Irritation to cough from a small spot behind and low down in throat.

Violent, short, rapid cough.

SPUTA—

None, cough dry; but hawks up much mucus.

WORSE—

Evening while lying down; must sit up.

From cold air; feels cold even to lungs.

SENSATION—

On inspiring, air feels cold, even in lungs.

LOBELIA INFLATA

CORYZA.

NO CORYZA—

Dryness and pricking in throat; not better by drinking.

DISCHARGES—

Tough mucus in fauces, causing frequent hawking.

SENSATIONS—

Of a lump in throat, hindering swallowing.

As if esophagus contracted from below, upward.

DRY COUGH—

Dry, spasmodic cough, with dyspnea, stridulous breathing, and fear of suffocation, from feeling of constriction in the larynx.

Tickling, acrid feeling in larynx; two short coughs.

Dry cough, with sneezing, yawning, and flatulent eructations.

Dry cough, with vomiting.

Severe, spasmodic cough, with great dyspnea, which is worse from every exertion or motion.

Constriction of middle of chest; constriction of larynx.

SPUTA—

Scanty; or, none; nothing comes up from cough.

WORSE—

From exertion and motion, dyspnea worse.

Eating warm foods.

From exposure to cold.

RESPIRATION—

Dyspnea, asthma, and difficult breathing.

From constriction of air tubes, larynx middle of chest, and diaphragm.

With short inhalation, and long exhalation.

At times, fear of death at severe stage of paroxysm.

SENSATIONS—

Burning and pricking-tingling in air-passages.

Feeling of narrowness in larynx, with acrid tickling, causing cough.

Strong constrictions of middle of chest, causing great dyspnea.

As if the heart would stand still.

As if a foreign body in throat prevented breathing and swallowing.

Weakness and pressure in epigastrium: burning in stomach, and fullness in chest.

Spasmodic contraction of diaphragm.

Feeling of band around chest.
Great dyspnea; spasmodic respiration.
Stomach feels too full.

SPECIAL DISEASES—

Asthma nervosa.
Asthma spartica.
Whooping cough, especially when expectoration ceases suddenly.
Bronchitis, with much dyspnea and scanty sputa.

LOBELIA SYPHILITICA

CORYZA.

DIFFICULT CORYZA—

Catarrhal inflammation of the posterior nares and throat.
At back of throat, constriction, soreness, and dryness.
Frequent sneezing (acute), with copious discharge of thick mucus.
Sensitive to inhaled air.
Dull aching over the root of the nose.

DRY COUGH—

Dry, hacking cough, day and night, with pain under the short ribs behind the spleen.
Pain in right side shooting downward.

SPUTA—

None; cough dry.

WORSE—

Continual dry cough, day and night.

SENSATIONS—

Dull aching over root of nose.
Soreness and dryness at back of throat.
Pain behind the spleen.
Sensitive to inhaled air.
Breath does not seem to go down deep enough.

LYCOPODIUM

CORYZA.

DRY CORYZA—

Sneezing by day; nose dry and stopped at night (acute).
Nightly stoppage of the nose, with dry coryza; secretion, crusty, fetid; hoarseness, rawness of chest; tickling cough at night.

FLUENT CORYZA—

Child rubs the nose violently and persistently.
With redness of eyes and lachrymation, frequent flushes of heat, and yawning.
Discharge excoriating, acrid; nose swollen, posterior nares dry; burning headache, forcing him to close eyes.
Thick, yellow discharge, copious and fatty; frontal headache. catarrh of posterior nares and frontal sinuses; constipation; yellowish complexion; prostration (second stage).

DISCHARGES—

Fluent, sometimes acrid; nose swollen.
Fluent, with lachrymation; eyes red.
Thick, yellow, abundant; face pale, dirty, sickly looking; blue rings around the eyes.
Dry scurfs and crusts; fetid; nose stopped at night with dry catarrh.

APPEARANCE—

Pale, sickly, yellowish.
Dark rings around eyes.
Circumscribed red cheeks.
Fan-like motion of alæ nasi.
Upper lip excoriated.
Nose swollen.
Smell very sensitive.
Heat and redness of face: flushes of heat.

WORSE—

At night, dry stoppage of nose worse.
Dryness of posterior nares worse at night: and after sleep.
Afternoon, 4 P. M.
From cold drinks.

SENSATIONS—

Dryness of posterior nares.

Contraction of throat, with difficult swallowing of food and drink; nothing goes down; food and drink return through nose.

As if a ball arose in throat from below: choking prevents swallowing.

Burning and pricking in throat and pharynx.

Pain and constriction in region of submaxillary glands.

Choking, provoking constant swallowing.

COUGH.

DRY COUGH—

Dry, hard cough, day and night, as from fumes of sulphur in trachea, with painfulness of head and pit of stomach; coughs during sleep.

SCANTY COUGH—

As if larynx were tickled with a feather, with scanty, thick sputa.

Chronic, persistent catarrh of respiratory tract.

Almost continual day and night, deep and short; scanty, thick, gray, difficult sputa.

LOOSE, CHRONIC COUGH—

Thick, greenish-yellow, fetid and abundant, but difficult.

Thick, yellow, purulent, profuse, with shortness of breath; tasting salty; fetid, blood-streaked, greenish.

SPUTA—

Very scanty and thick, with dry cough.

Very tenacious and difficult, with loose rattling in lungs.

Rust-colored, tenacious, blood-streaked.

WORSE—

From 4 to 8 P. M.

At night: day and night.

On alternate days.

From exertion: from stooping.

From eating and drinking cold things.

From lying on the side, especially the left.

From wind, cough worse: other symptoms are better from open air: cough is worse in a warm room.
Lying on back, breathing worse.

BETTER—
Sitting up, or lying on the back, cough better, breathing worse.
Cough returns as soon as he turns on his left side.

CHEST—
Oppression, with shortness of breath.
Constriction as of tight clothing, with dull pain all over lungs.
Rawness in left chest and under clavicles.
Stitching pains in left chest.
Difficult breathing as if he had inhaled fumes of sulphur.

FEVER—
Slight fever, no pain, but extreme dyspnea from least exercise.

SENSATIONS—
As of fumes of sulphur in trachea, dry cough.
As of a feather in larynx, with scanty expectoration.
Shock and shattered sensation in head and chest, with violent cough.
Internal rawness: tearing under clavicles.
Hoarseness with constant desire to clear throat.
Flushes of heat, with circumscribed redness of cheeks.
Small, weak pulse, worse after eating.
Oppression of chest, with shortness of breath.
Constriction of chest, as from tight clothing (Laches.).
Easily fatigued: limbs heavy: weariness.

SPECIAL DISEASES—
Sub-acute bronchitis.
Chronic coughs.
Broncho-pneumonia.
Pneumonia of left side.
Typhoid-pneumonia.

SPECIAL CONCOMITANTS—
Aggravation 4 to 8 P. M.
Easily fatigued: oppression and dyspnea: circumscribed redness of cheeks.
Exhalations of body smell like onions.
Sputa always thick and difficult: scanty or profuse.

LYCOPUS VIRGINICUS

COUGH.

DRY COUGH—

With hemoptysis and feeble, weak heart action, irregular and quick.

Violent, deep, evening and night, without waking.

WORSE—

Evening and night, without waking.

From least exercise.

Lying on right side.

SPECIAL DISEASES—

Incipient phthisis.

MAGNESIA CARBONICA

COUGH.

DRY COUGH—

Fits of spasmodic cough at night, in persons troubled with ascarides: it then cures both. (Lilienthal.)

MAGNESIA MURIATICA

CORYZA.

FLUENT AND DRY CORYZA—

Violent coryza; complete loss of taste and smell; alternately fluent and stopped.

Watery, acrid mucous discharge, corroding nostrils and lip: nose obstructed at night.

WORSE—

In morning; hoarse, with dry, rough throat.

DRY COUGH—

Dry cough, evening and night, with burning and soreness in chest: sensitive to cold.

Spasmodic cough from tickling in the throat: no expectoration evening and night: watery expectoration during day.

CHRONIC, SCANTY COUGH—

Or, of tough yellow mucus of offensive taste and odor, sometimes mixed with lumps of blood.

WORSE—

Evening until midnight.
Lying down.
At rest.
From eating.
In warm room.

MAGNESIA PHOSPHORICA

COUGH.

DRY COUGH—

Tickling, spasmodic cough, with constriction of chest and throat.
Nervous cough.
Spasmodic cough in paroxysms, at night; no sputa; cannot lie down; paroxysm ends in a whoop.
Spasmodic cough in paroxysms, about once an hour or so, by day; face gets turgid and blue (whooping cough).
Chronic, nervous cough.

SPUTA—

None.

WORSE—

At night, lying down.
By day, at intervals of an hour or so.

SPECIAL—

Chronic nervous cough; spasmodic, dry cough.
Laryngismus stridulus.
Spasmodic nervous asthma.

MAGNESIA SULPHURICA

CORYZA

YZA—

fre mittent flow of water from the h vc e chest.

rmi

SENSATIONS—

Of pain in posterior nares as from air passing violently through, when talking or coughing.
Of mucus in throat which will not go up or down.
Stinging between acts of swallowing.
Mouth and throat very dry.

COUGH.

DRY COUGH—

With burning from larynx to pit of stomach.
Evening in bed.
With painful burning in chest when coughing, as if piece of lung would be torn out.
Burning in middle of chest.

SENSATIONS—

Burning in chest and larynx.
Torn feeling of lung when coughing.

MANCINELLA

COUGH.

SCANTY COUGH—

Violent cough from least exertion, with painful stitches in trachea; sputa scanty.
Expectoration relieves oppression of chest.

WORSE—

At night.
After drinking.
From talking.
From pressure, pain in chest.

BETTER—

From raising mucus.

SENSATIONS—

Oppression of chest, relieved by raising scanty sputa.
Constriction of chest; severe pain under sternum, worse from pressure.
Palpitation and throbbing in chest.
Stiffness of back.
Frequent hawking, with nausea.

MANGANUM

CORYZA.

DRY, STOPPED CORYZA—

Dry coryza, with complete closure of nose, and crampy pain at root of nose; worse in wet, cold weather.

Dry coryza, nose stopped; greenish lumps from posterior nares, in the morning; nose sore to touch; worse in evening.

Alternately dry and fluent coryza.

DISCHARGES—

None; or alternately dry and fluent.

Chronic, greenish lumps from posterior nares.

WORSE—

Wet, cold weather.

In the evening.

SENSATIONS—

As of a leaf closing the trachea.

Painful, crampy feeling at root of the nose.

Dryness and obstruction of nose.

Pain in throat between acts of swallowing.

DISEASES—

Chronic catarrh and sore throat.

Chronic laryngismus.

COUGH.

DRY COUGH—

Tickling cough with hoarseness, rawness in larynx; breath feels hot; larynx feels constricted.

Disagreeable heat in chest; larynx feels dry.

Dry, incessant cough, which ceases as soon as he lies down.

Deep cough with scanty sputa; it ceases as soon as he lies down.

SPUTA—

None, cough dry, incessant, until he lies down.

Scanty, very adhesive, lumpy, and tough, causing long efforts at coughing.

Easy in morning, of yellowish green lumps, even coming up without cough.

Of reddish or blood phlegm.

WORSE—

Sitting up, or while up.
From talking, or laughing, cough and pains.
From deep breathing.
About 5 p. m.; incessant until he lies down.

BETTER—

Lying down.

SENSATIONS—

Breath hot and burning with disagreeable heat in chest.
Rawness in larynx, with acute cough; with chronic hoarseness.
Dull stitches on both sides of larynx, extending to ears.
Bruised pain in chest; stitches in chest and sternum.
Stitching pains through right lung, dry cough; ceasing on lying down; Hemoptysis; anemia.
Pains in various parts, head, ears, stomach, arms; worse from talking or laughing.

SPECIAL DISEASES—

Chronic laryngitis.
Acute laryngitis.
Chronic bronchitis.
Tuberculosis.
Eustachean deafness from chronic inflammation of fauces.

MEDORRHINUM

CORYZA.

THICK CORYZA—

Heavy fluent coryza, with hard frontal headache all day, worse at 10:30 A. M.
Thick, grayish mucus from posterior nares.
Nasal catarrh with continual running down throat.

WORSE—

Coryza, 10:30 A. M.
Headache, stooping.
Hoarseness, reading.

BETTER—

From clearing out thick mucus.

SENSATIONS—

Feeling as of tight band drawn across forehead; worse leaning forward.

Pressure back of eyes, as if they would be forced out, extending over brain to back of neck (Spigel.).

Entire loss of smell.

Pharynx feels very stiff and sore.

Dryness and hoarseness of throat, especially while reading.

COUGH.

DRY COUGH—

Dry, severe cough, incessant at night, with dryness and lump in throat.

LOOSE, PAINFUL COUGH—

Terribly painful, loose cough; as if larynx would be torn to pieces, or the lining be torn off; with profuse, viscid, gray mucus, mixed with blood.

Deep, hollow cough, as if in an empty barrel; bronchi feel enlarged and hollow; and lining seems loose and flabby.

LOOSE, DIFFICULT COUGH—

Ineffectual hard cough; cannot get under rattling mucus, it seems too low down; cough does not go deep enough; must lie down on face to raise gelatinous, yellowish, tasteless mucus.

SPUTA—

None, cough dry.

Profuse, difficult, viscid, grayish mucus.

Gelatinous, tasteless, abundant mucus.

Little, greenish, bitter balls.

WORSE—

At night, dry cough.

Lying down, dry cough worse; loose cough better.

From sweet things, dry cough.

Falling asleep, cough wakens.

BETTER—

Lying on face, raises better.

SENSATIONS—

Tickling under sternum.
Sinking under sternum; dry cough.
Terribly painful larynx, as if torn, or the lining were peeled off.
Dryness and excoriation of larynx; feeling of lump, with dry cough.
As if bronchi were enlarged, and lining membrane flabby.
As if could not get under sputa; cough does not go down far enough.
Heat in chest; burning in chest.
Soreness in chest; cough very raw and painful.
Burning, empty feeling in chest.
Sore, blistered spot in chest.

MELILOTUS

CORYZA.

DRY, BLOODY CORYZA—

Excessive dryness of nose.
Frequent and very profuse nosebleed; every attack preceded by great congestion of head and face.

COUGH.

DRY COUGH—

Very distressing, harsh, dry cough, with much anxiety; nosebleed every few minutes; better by slight expectoration, and from nosebleed.
Constant, severe, racking, dry cough and very rapid breathing; both lungs greatly congested; face and eyes very red; nosebleed every few minutes; sputa, none or of bright red blood (pneumonia); high fever; severe headache, almost delirious; head much confused; carotid throbbing; better from nosebleed; some relief, also, from slight expectoration.

SPUTA—

None, or very scanty.

BETTER—

From raising the least amount.
Nosebleed, which is very profuse, relieves congestion of head and face; confused and anxious.

RESPIRATION—

Very rapid breathing; could not get air enough; felt as if smothering.

Chest very sore and oppressed, as if garments were too tight. (Pneumonia.)

ATTACKS—

Every attack of nosebleed preceded by intense redness and congestion of head and face; confused and anxious; severe headache.

SENSATIONS—

As if smothering; could not get air enough.

As if garments were too tight; chest very sore and oppressed.

Severe headache, almost delirious.

Head much confused.

MEPHITIS

CORYZA.

FLUENT CORYZA—

Fluent coryza, cough and soreness in chest.

COUGH.

DEEP, DRY COUGH—

Deep, hollow, spasmodic, dry cough, with hoarseness, rawness and soreness in the chest; with suffocative feeling inhaling, and very difficult exhaling.

SCANTY, DIFFICULT COUGH—

Scanty cough, with severe asthma; the more he coughs, the worse he breathes (see sputa).

Severe, intermittent paroxysms of coughing, much more frequent and severe at night, with rattling of phlegm and vomiting during the cough; by day cough is slight; and in morning, loose.

Frequent vomiting with cough; also, vomiting of all food some hours after meals; or soon after eating, when paroxysm comes on.

Frequent paroxysms at night; vomiting and fever.

Scanty cough consequent upon asthmatic attacks, especially such asthma as comes on in night and compels the patient to get up and walk about to relieve breathing; the cough is slight at first, growing more severe, the more he coughs, with aggravation of dyspnea; each cough brings up a little clear mucus like white of egg; sensation of fumes of sulphur inhaled during paroxysm.

SPUTA—

Difficult, or wanting at night.
Loose in morning, with severe expectoration.
Little bit of transparent phlegm, with distressing asthmatic cough.
Clear mucus, like white of an egg.

WORSE—

Drinking; talking; loud reading; cough.
At night, cough worse, but present also by day in severe paroxysms.
Lying down; after sleeping, cough and asthma.
Exhaling is almost impossible.

BETTER—

By day, cough less severe.
In morning, cough loose.
Sitting up, breathing better.
Walking about, breathing easier.
Raising clear white-of-egg mucus, cough and asthma better.

SENSATIONS—

General oppression of front of chest.
Inhaling difficult; exhaling almost impossible, with suffocation.
Rawness and soreness in chest.
As of fumes of sulphur, with severe paroxysms of cough.

SPECIAL DISEASES—

Whooping cough, worse at night: vomiting of all food some hours after eating, in uncontrollable paroxysms.
Attacks of cough after drinking, talking, reading (sleeping, asthma and cough).
Coughing spells day and night; child gets blue; must be raised up; cannot exhale. (Whooping cough).

Asthmatic paroxysms, waking from sleep 10 P. M., and again in morning; had to get up and walk about; with scanty cough and severe dyspnea.

MERCURIUS

CORYZA.

FLUENT CORYZA—

Hoarse voice, burning, rawness, and tickling in larynx.

Fluent coryza, corrosive: inside of nose inflamed: full at root; stopped up: watery mucus trickles from posterior nares into throat, causing hawking: throat sore: chilly by day; obliged to lie down.

DISCHARGES—

Corrosive, watery: violent, dry cough.

Nose sore, red, tender.

Eyes full of tears; much sneezing, head dull, redness of alæ, voice hoarse.

WORSE—

Feels bad in warm room, but cannot bear cold air.

In cold, wet weather; or from least current of cold air.

SENSATIONS—

Throat feels dry, but the mouth is full of saliva.

Rawness and burning in nose and throat.

Fullness over root of nose, nostrils stopped.

APPEARANCES—

Coppery, dark red color of throat, which is painful on swallowing; but he feels he must swallow.

COUGH.

DRY COUGH—

Dry cough with fluent coryza; burning, rawness, and tickling in larynx; worse from least current of air.

Violent, dry cough at night; feels and sounds as if everything in chest were dry.

Dry, fatiguing, racking cough in two paroxysms (Puls.) particularly at night, as if head and chest would burst (sub-acute).

Moist, barking cough, with sound of mucus, but none is raised; day or night.

Dry cough, from tickling in larynx and upper chest, sometimes with vomiting.

Dry, raw, burning exhausting cough, with burning and soreness in fauces and bronchi; worse at night; expectoration of tough, watery-like saliva; foul, with streaks of blood.

SPUTA—

None, everything sounds and feels dry.

Watery, spittle-like, stringy, blood-streaked.

Offensive, bloody, chronic in tuberculosis.

Acrid or yellowish mucus, at times tinged with blood, and tasting saltish or putrid (chronic bronchitis).

WORSE—

At night, but present by day.

From heat; not better from sweating.

Only at night; or, only by day; alternating cough.

From least current of air, cough and coryza.

BETTER—

Asthmatic breathing better from tobacco smoke and in cold air, but not in a draft.

LARYNX—

Acute laryngitis, burning, rawness and tickling with fluent coryza.

Chronic laryngitis; voice hoarse, severe burning in larynx.

More tickling from phlegm. (Chronic).

SENSATIONS—

Cough from dryness and tickling in bronchi.

Dryness, rawness, and burning in throat and bronchi.

Tickling cough sometimes causes vomiting.

SPECIAL—

Sweating does not relieve (also, in Hepar sul.).

MERCURIUS CORROSIV US

CORYZA.

FLUENT CORYZA—

Excessive fluent coryza; loss of smell.

Nose feels stopped, but at the same time it runs.

Rawness and smarting in nostrils.
Throat dark red, swollen, sore, painful.

DISCHARGES—

Fluent, watery mucus. (Acute).
Offensive, gluey, sticky; nose stopped, discharge dries in nose (chronic ozena).

SENSATIONS—

Rawness and smarting.
Nostrils sore and red.
Throat very red, raw and inflamed.

COUGH.

DRY COUGH—

Deep, hollow, dry (owing to weakness of lungs), chronic cough; dryness in throat and trachea causing constant desire to drink; stitches in various parts of chest.

SPUTA—

None, or difficult.
Tough, white, or greenish.

WORSE—

At night.
From talking.

RESPIRATION—

Great oppression of chest; difficult, sobbing, sighing breathing; hoarse, hollow, deep, dry cough; lungs weak.

MEZEREUM

CORYZA.

DRY CORYZA—

Dry coryza, with sneezing, diminished sense of smell, and soreness in chest.

FLUENT CORYZA—

Fluent, watery coryza; excoriation of nose and upper lip; scabs in nose.
Heat, burning, scraping, peppery feeling of palate and fauces.

DISCHARGES—

Thin, more or less acrid.
Watery, or yellowish, or bloody; burning.

SPECIAL—

Twitching of facial muscles.

COUGH.

DRY, SCANTY COUGH—

Severe, dry, hacking cough; worse at night, especially until midnight; with dryness, scraping, and burning in throat and pharynx, oppression and contraction in chest, and constant chilliness, even in bed; but no desire for heat.
Violent, uninterrupted cough until relieved by vomiting.
Hoarseness with rawness in chest and dry cough.
Hacking cough, with dry, raw, burning throat, scanty mucus, and anxious, oppressed breathing.

SPUTA—

Dry, or scanty difficult mucus at night; yellow and viscid in the morning, tasting saltish or offensive.

WORSE—

Eating or drinking anything hot; must cough until it is vomited.
Evening and night; evening to midnight.

BETTER—

From vomiting.

SE[illegible]—

[illegible]le.
[illegible]re heat, nor fear open air.
[illegible]scraping in throat and trachea.

[illegible]MILLE[illegible]

[illegible]unges[illegible]and chest, which feels op-
[illegible]p pa[illegible]Melilotus).

BLOODY COUGH—

Expectoration of bright-red blood; it rises warm in the throat, without much coughing; rupture of blood vessels in bronchi or lungs (Ipecac).

SPUTA—

Coughing blood every afternoon at 4.

SPECIAL—

Suppressed menses (Senecio).
After violent exertion.
In tuberculosis of lungs.
Violent congestion to head and chest.

MOSCHUS

COUGH.

DRY COUGH—

Hysterical, severe, dry cough; with constriction of chest; worse in morning.
Severe dry cough, with pain under left breast.

SPUTA—

None.

RESPIRATION—

Hysterical spasm of the chest.
Suffocative constriction, especially on becoming cold.

SENSATION—

Of stricture, or of sudden closure of larynx.

MIND—

Great fear and dread of death.

MURIATIC ACID

CORYZA.

FLUENT CORYZA—

Fluent, thin, acrid, excoriating coryza, stinging in nostrils; nose stopped; frequent sneezing.

DISCHARGES—

Thin, watery, acrid, nose stopped. (Acute.)
Thick, yellow, acrid. (Chronic).

SENSATIONS—

Stinging, soreness; frequent sneezing.
